No human-subjects experiment was conducted. The study analyses the author's own operational records, the author's channel analytics and public platform metadata. The exported records exclude credentials, raw client logs, private messages and viewer personal data (`data/production-update-2026-11-03.json` , field `excluded`).

6. Data and code availability

The 69-record operational journal, the 55-record channel snapshot, the 30-entry media manifest, the workflow scripts and the manuscript sources are available at https://github.com/whitecarp/agentic-work-lab (data files as of commit `e3205d6`). The evaluated release software is available at https://github.com/whitecarp/publishops-crosscast (commit `75b7abc`). `node paper/reproduce_paper_tables.mjs` recomputes every figure reported in the manuscript.
